The earnings of the Harlem Railroad for De.

...$0,576,53 The earnings for the entire year are as annexed:
1845 - $119,035
1847 - 235,547

The estimate of the Company for the year was $320,000, and it will be seen that the actual receipts are within less than a thousand dollars of the estimate. It must be remembered, however, that when this estimate was made, it was supposed that the Company would have the advantage of the Extension Road to would have the advantage of the Extension Road to Dover and of the New-Haven Road during the month of December. The result, however, was that only three days income was received from the New-Haven and none at all from the Extension. Had these two sources of income met the expectations of the Company the receipts of the year would have proved the caution with which the estimate was made up. The increase from the New-Haven business has thus far been a little over $100 per day, and this will be much increased when all the trains are running. The estimated increase from this source next year is $75,000. The estimate for the entire year's business, ending 31st December, 1849, is $450,000. The are running. The estimated increase from this source next year is $75,000. The estimate for the entire year's business, ending 31st December, 1849, is $450,000. The interest on $1,500,000 of preferred stock is $120,000, and if the running expenses are 50 per cent of the receipts, there will be $105,000 excess earnings to be applied to the extension of the Road to Chatham Four Corners, er to a dividend on the old stock, as the Company may think most judicious. This excess would give 4 per cent dividend on the old stock. The whole capital of the old Company is now about four millions of dollars. A movement is already being made to exmiles, where it will connect with the Road to Al-bany, and form a continuous route from this City. Company, and subscriptions are going on favorably, along the new line, for a loan to the Company to build this extension. Were the means liberally furnished the connection with the Albany road might be made by the 1st of Japuary, 1850; but the probability is that two years will elapse before the consummation of this de-

In Freights there is nothing doing, excepting for California. Most of the first class ships for this destination are filling up at $3.00 per bbl., 50c. per foot, and $30 per ton. Two or three vessels were taken to land Cotton at Apalachicola for Marseilles, at 1; per lb.

We learn that the depôts of the Eric Road at Binghanton are crowded with freight waiting transpor-tation, and that at all the stations there were much larger amounts offering than had been anticipated. At some of the small stations where nothing but passen gers had been looked for there were considerable accumulations of freight. As soon as Spring opens the iron which is already at Binghamton will be laid to Owego, to which point the road is ready for the iron. It is believed this extension will be opened in May next-in October Elmirs will be reached, and in December the road will probably be opened to Corning. Favora-ble contracts have been made with a very wealthy com-pany of contractors who receive in payment income certificates, the company furnishing the iron. To exhibit the cheapness of fares on the Eric Road, and the extortionate prices on the Southern route, we annex the comparative cost of the Journey from New-York to Washington and from New-York to Binghamton:

The citizens of Fredonia have held a meeting The citizens of Fredonia have need a meeting in relation to the Buffalo and Eric Railroad, principally with a view of taking measures for the organization of a company for its construction. The Charter requires that $70,000 or $1,000 per mile, be subscribed, and 10 per cent be paid in before a Company can be formed. The citizens of Fredonia will subscribe about $20,000.

The subjoined statement of the foreign exports from the port of Savannah, for the quarter ending 31st from the port of Savannah, for the quarter ending 31st December, 1848, develops the fact, that the commerce of that city are on the increase. It will be seen that the value of foreign exports in American bottoms, during the last quarter is $722,303, and in foreign bottoms $305,796—amounting together to the sum of $1,088,098.

The increase of exports during the single month of December, over those of the corresponding month in 1847, is $109,493.
